Consistently Consistent

Over the years, I have had the privilege of observing and learning from the many successful enterprises at Bhumi World Industrial Park. Each business brings a unique formula, but consistency is one common thread that runs through them.

Take Rybecal, for instance. Its unwavering consistency in delivering top-quality products year after year has made it a go-to choice in its industry. Instead of the "push" factor, it has benefited from the "pull" factor. It reminds me that in today's fast-paced world, consistency builds credibility, and credibility builds demand.

Then there's Gem Spright, a company that earns nearly 80% of its business from repeat clients. That's no small feat in today's competitive climate. Its customer-centric approach and exceptional after-sales service have been instrumental in retaining trust. The lesson here is simple but powerful: before chasing new clients, maximise value for the ones you already have.

Gopalaas stands out for its warmth and hospitality. In an age where everything is becoming digital and impersonal, it has built a brand grounded in human connection. From leadership to front-line staff, everyone carries the same ethos. Its story reinforces that personal touch is not outdated; it's a competitive advantage.

Aayush Arts exemplifies creative evolution. Its consistent effort to innovate reflects how the mind can do much more when curious. Its willingness to experiment shows that innovation isn't just for tech companies—it's a mindset every business can adopt to remain fresh and relevant.

These companies are more than tenants. They are educators in their own right. Watching them grow has shaped my belief that an industrial park is not just a space for factories but a living ecosystem of ideas, values, and progress. At Bhumi World, we don't just provide infrastructure—we nurture inspiration.

Six packs in the packaging industry!

In a world where first impression is often the last impression, Aayush Arts ensures that your product creates a long-lasting impression in the minds of the beholders. Renowned for their innovative and attractive packaging solutions, Aayush Arts is the go-to choice for top sweets and namkeen brands across the country. Their designs protect the product and elevate its appeal, making every box a visual delight.

With over two decades of expertise, they combine creativity and precision to deliver packaging that enhances the brand and excites customers at first glance. Aayush Arts, started by Nilesh Maru, who happens to be a JJ School of Arts alumnus, has emerged as a trusted leader in the packaging and printing sector, delivering innovative and sustainable solutions to clients across the food, pharmaceutical, cosmetic, and hospitality industries. Built on a foundation of quality, innovation, and customer satisfaction, the company has carved a niche by combining cutting-edge technology with a deep understanding of market needs.

From humble beginnings, Aayush Arts has evolved into a state-of-the-art packaging

A key pillar of Aayush Arts' success is its commitment to sustainability. By promoting eco-friendly materials such as recycled paper and biodegradable plastics, the company is not only reducing environmental impact but also helping educate consumers on making conscious purchasing decisions. Its sustainable practices extend to their supply chain, fostering collaborations that share their green vision.

powerhouse. Its modern manufacturing facility is equipped with globally sourced, technologically advanced machinery that ensures precision, speed, and consistency in every output. The company's engineering and R&D team constantly pushes boundaries, integrating advanced materials and composites to enhance durability and functionality.

Aayush Arts is more than just a manufacturer — it's a strategic partner for businesses, offering tailored packaging solutions that enhance branding and market appeal. Its wide range of FDA-compliant, food-grade boxes caters to companies of all sizes, from small local eateries to multinational corporations.

Over the years, Aayush Arts has built a robust client base, including leading FMCG brands, pharmaceutical companies, and prominent sweet shops. These long-standing relationships are a testament to the company's unwavering focus on quality, service, and trust.

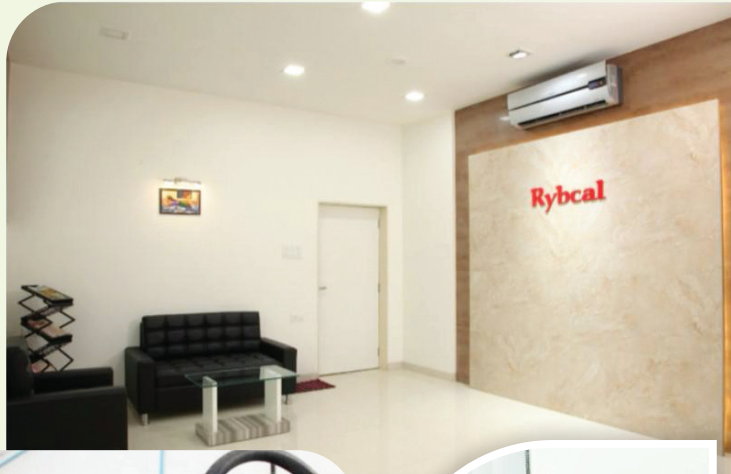

As the packaging landscape evolves, Aayush Arts remains at the forefront — driven by innovation, sustainability, and customer-centricity, and has more than 100 clients to its credit. With the next generation joining the family enterprise, the business is growing to the next level. Aayush Maru, son of Dipti and Nilesh Maru, is ably following in his father's footsteps. With an eye on the future and a solid legacy behind them, Aayush Arts continues to help businesses elevate their brand with packaging that speaks of excellence, responsibility, and lasting value.

'Gem' of a Company!

Born just five years back, Gem Spright - Electricals & Automation Pvt. Ltd. has rapidly established a reputation as a trusted name in the industrial automation and control systems sector. With a turnover surpassing ₹30 million, the company stands as a testament to what focused vision, technical expertise, and commitment to customer satisfaction can achieve in a short period.

Gem Spright is a professionally managed organisation specialising in designing, manufacturing, and supplying electrical control panels tailored to HVAC, engineering, power distribution, and process automation industries. Their panels are the backbone of critical operations in pharmaceuticals, edible oil production, oil filtration, water and wastewater treatment, steel, textiles, and many more industrial sectors.

What sets Gem Spright apart is its customer-centric approach and custom-engineered solutions. With an experienced team of engineers and technicians, the company is fully equipped with state-of-the-art infrastructure to deliver high-performance control panel systems. Every product is designed in-house, enabling full control over the quality, process, and delivery timelines—drastically reducing the need for third-party coordination and delays.

Gem Spright Electricals & Automation Pvt. Ltd. has transformed from a budding enterprise to a trusted solutions provider in the electrical automation industry in just a few years.

Additionally, their commitment doesn't end at delivery. The company is known for its prompt after-sales support, helping clients maintain smooth operations and minimising downtime.

Numbers do not just measure the growth of Gem Spright, but also the value it adds to its clients' operations. The company continues to innovate and evolve, aligning its offerings with modern industry needs while retaining its personalised approach to every project.

The company's core philosophy centres around quality, reliability, and service. More than 80% of their business comes from repeat customers, a clear indicator of the trust and satisfaction they have built over time. By consolidating the design, manufacturing, and testing processes under one roof, Gem Spright ensures consistent output with minimal lead time. This end-to-end capability enhances project efficiency and reduces the time and cost involved for clients.
